Partnering generously

Another way you can show generosity in our community is through investing your time or financial support with our community partnerships. Or perhaps there is another community partner or non-profit you want to invest in for the year.

4 Principles of a Generous Life

1. Jesus is Lord. He is the King. We acknowledge that we are a family of servants and missionaries living under His reign.

2. If Christ has me, He has my resources, too. As Christians, we choose to trust and surrender every aspect of our lives to Him everyday.

3. God resources us for the good of those around us. God provides for His people not only to display His reign and power, but to share what He's given us to bless others in His name.

4. A generous life only happens intentionally. While giving a gift is a one-time decision, a life of generosity overflows from a regular practice of attentiveness, prayer, and planning.

THE KINGDOM OF GOD is a place of abundance, and our King is gracious and generous. As people called to show and tell of the Kingdom of God in our world, we look for opportunities to show what the Kingdom of God is like through our generosity and to tell the Good News of Christ's abundant generosity towards us.

But where do we start?

- ✓ PAY ATTENTION Who has God put in your path that you can bless through generously sharing your resources? Make a list, and make sure to include your neighbors, your coworkers, and any organization or cause to which you are connected.
- ✓ PRAY Take some time to pray over your list. Ask the Lord to make any step of generosity you need to take clear to you. Write down the ways you want to show generosity.
- ✓ PLAN Build a step-by-step plan for seeing your generosity plan unfold. When needed, include a timetable and accountability to help you succeed.

Transformative generosity

One way you can increase your generosity is through investing in RiverTree Jackson directly. Your generosity helps RiverTree offer strategic opportunities to equip and empower people to live faithful lives on mission with Christ. We encourage everyone who considers RiverTree Jackson their church home to join us on mission through a regular financial investment here.

We believe that God wants to see lives transformed through the love of Jesus and that each one of us are missionaries for Him. By generously partnering with us financially, you help make this life transformation possible along with our God Dream of a missionary on every street and a missional community in every neighborhood.
